COMPANY PROFILE

Be part of the solution

ENVOMED IS PART OF MAABAROT METAL WORKS

Maabarot Metal Works was founded in 1981 and belongs to Kibutz Maabarot Group, Located in Israel.

Maabarot Metal Works is specialized in designing and producing industrial machines integrating various fields, knowledge and experience for creative and advanced solutions.

Now, this wealth of knowledge and experience is being harnessed to tackle the global problem of medical and infectious waste treatment, with the Envomed 80.

Being part of the Maabarot Group means Envomed has been developed with the company's core values of honesty, reliability, mutual respect, obeying the law and following quality and safety procedures. It's just part of our DNA.

Along with our accelerated growth, expansion into new categories often using advanced technologies, and our desire to constantly improve and excel, Envomed continuously strives to uphold the values that have guided the firm since its establishment.

OUR VALUES

OUR MISSION

Medical waste treatment methods around the world need to change – or we risk causing continual harm both to public safety, and to the environment as well.

Until now, hospitals have almost exclusively opted for off-site solutions to their medical waste treatment, as existing on-site solutions have not been good enough.

Most countries still use giant off-site unsustainable, high energy consumers with dramatically high carbon footprint incinerators rather than the traditional existing on-site solutions which are based on heat treatment.

Envomed is here to change all of that. Our Envomed 80 is a scientifically-driven, on-site solution capable of treating up to 80 liters of sharps and infectious medical waste in just 15 minutes. It is Envomed's mission to revolutionize the world of medical waste treatment, and in so doing, to create a better future for everyone.
